Forecast For Southwest England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Wednesday 08 Dec 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Coastal gales and scattered showers. Winds easing overnight.

Today:
A very windy day with further showers, these heavy and occasionally mixed with hail, with the showers banding together to give more prolonged downpours in the afternoon. Gales continuing near the coast. Maximum temperature 8 deg C (46 deg F).

Tonight:
Strong winds and scattered showers at first, but the winds will slowly ease overnight and the showers fade, with most places dry with clear spells by morning. Minimum temperature 3 deg C (37 deg F).

Thursday:
Dry with bright spells for much of the morning, however cloud and rain will reach west Cornwall by midday, and will spread eastwards through the rest of the afternoon. Maximum temperature 9 deg C (48 deg F).

Outlook for Friday to Sunday:
Overnight rain clears to sunshine and showers Friday. Milder on Saturday, though largely cloudy with patchy rain. Cloudy breezy and mild on Sunday with light rain at times.
